6. TOURNAMENT PROCEDURE:

a. Overview: The Tournament, including the number of rounds and the bracket as described herein, are based on the number of Entrants who fully participate in the Tournament during the Tournament Period in accordance with the Rules. If, during the Tournament Period, an Entrant leaves and does not return to the Tournament location for any reason after two (2) or more complete and consecutive rounds of play, such Entrant is automatically disqualified from the Tournament and may not re-enter the Tournament. The Tournament Organizer will host the Tournament during the Tournament Period at the Tournament Location. The entire Tournament is a physical event held in person; Entrants may not participate via a proxy or designated representative.

b. Tournament Part One: The Tournament will take place in two (2) parts. The first part of the Tournament (“Part One”) is designed as a standard Swiss round style tournament and will consist of a tournament with two (2) Entrants at a table in each round. Each round will be limited to forty (40) total consecutive minutes. The number of rounds is determined by the total number of Entrants participating in the Tournament at the beginning of the Tournament Period. In the first round, Entrants will be randomly matched by Tournament Organizer with their opponents. For all subsequent Part One rounds, Entrants will be matched by Tournament Organizer with their opponents based on the Entrants' standings from the immediately preceding round. During each round, Entrants will play one (1) game subject to the VS System game rules that are included with purchase of any VS System game, whereby Entrants will aim to stun their opponent's main character and place wounds until the main character is knocked out. Entrants who successfully knock out their opponent's main character will be declared the winners of that round. If a winner has not been determined at a table at the end of each round, then the Entrant at that table with the least number of collective wounds across all of its main characters shall be deemed the winner of that table for the particular round. If the Entrants are tied, then End of Round procedures should be followed in line with the Upper Deck Tournament Policy, which is incorporated by reference herein and shall be read by the Tournament Organizer at the start of the Tournament as well as posted by the Tournament Organizer at the Tournament Location for the duration of the Tournament Period. The Tournament Policy is also posted online at www.upperdeck.com/op. Entrants' win/loss standings shall be updated by the Tournament Organizer at the conclusion of each round. After each round, Entrants will be matched by the Tournament Organizer with different opponents based on the Tournament standings at the end of the round and assigned a new "table" during each subsequent round, if applicable. After a Tournament Organizer-determined number of rounds based on the number of Entrants, Entrants with the highest total win/loss standings ("Top Cut") will be eligible to move on to the second part of the Tournament ("Part Two"). Top Cut is determined by the total number of Entrants at the beginning of the Tournament Period. The Top Cut determines the second part of the Tournament.

c. Tournament Part Two: Part Two is a single elimination bracket style tournament with two (2) Entrants assigned to a table. Entrants will be matched by Tournament Organizer into a tournament bracket with their opponents based on the final standings at the end of the Swiss round in Part One. Rounds in Part Two are not limited in time, unless determined by the Tournament Organizer in his/her/their sole discretion based on the Tournament Location's business hours. During each round in Part Two, Entrants will play up to three (3) games pursuant to the VS System game rules to stun their opponent's main character and place wounds until the main character is knocked out. If an Entrant loses two (2) of these three (3) games, he/she/they will be considered the loser of that individual round and conversely, his/her/their opponent from that round will be considered the winner. Losers of each round will be eliminated from the remainder of the Tournament. The winners from each round of Part Two will advance to the next round until the final two (2) remaining Entrants are matched by Tournament Organizer (collectively the "Finalists"). The Finalists will play up to three (3) games to determine the overall winner of the Tournament. The first Finalist to win two (2) total games will be declared the first place Winner.
